“This technology is an incredible leap in terms of the way we are able to make games more authentic,” said Alex Hunter, Producer on FIFA 22. “The movements and actions of players like Ronaldo and Neymar just feel different when you are controlling them in FIFA 22. The changes we have made to our gameplay model bring to life the excitement of the highest levels of football.” In FIFA 22, you can now control multiple Ultimate Team recruits at once. This allows you to assign multiple Ultimate Team goals to a single player and make better decisions in the field. The gameplay model also allows you to assign any of your active Ultimate Team players as free role players. This provides a more flexible strategy and makes for more interesting and more tactical plays in the final stages of the game. Graphics In FIFA 22, you will notice that the visuals in the game have been improved in almost every aspect. New lighting and shading techniques have been employed and the overall camera motion has been optimized to reduce the stuttering and tearing of the game. Additional physics effects, such as paragliding, spinning shots, and moving goal posts, have been added to the game. A new weather system has also been implemented to provide a unique atmosphere to the game. New ball animations have been introduced as well, and AI improvements and club updates have been made to ensure FIFA 22 offers the most authentic FIFA experience. FIFA 22 introduces new stadiums, stadiums that have been remodeled, and stadiums that were completely rebuilt from scratch. All stadiums have been optimized to better handle the high number of live event attendees as well as the high traffic loads of the new FIFA Mobile GO Master League. Customization FIFA Mobile GO Master League features new customization options that include new weapons and hairstyles. The update also introduces a new season for the first time in over two years. Season 21 will be available for all players on June 27th. In addition to the Master League, new kits will be available for new players to customize their Ultimate Team during Summer Split. The new kits come in seven different categories, including kits from winning teams in the highly competitive European Champions League. The Summer Split will last from July 16th to August 11th, offering new challenges to complete and the chance to win more rewards. The FIFA 20 Mobile Master League will run from September 15th to October 30th, with new challenges and new rewards available.
